Roby Commercial in the Spotlight

While the Roby Family of Companies has many recognizable residential projects, our work in the commercial space does not go unnoticed. From corporate spaces to amenity buildings and from hospitality and retail to senior living, our commercial work is helping change the landscape in Charlotte and beyond.

In the Spotlight

Our Roby Commercial and Roby Services teams took home awards for best Commercial Interior and Exterior projects at the November Contractor of the Year awards hosted by NARI of Greater Charlotte. In addition to these local awards, both projects won at the regional level as well!

The Interior winner was our Protagonist LoSo renovation. Previously, this 15,000 square-foot warehouse space was two separate commercial spaces under one roof. Post renovation, the blended spaces now include three bars, mezzanine level, pizza kitchen, 15-barrel brewhouse and barrel-aging room. With a consistent overall look and feel to the Protagonist NoDa location we renovated a few years back, Protagonist LoSo has plenty of room to stretch out with friends.

The Exterior winner was our historic Park-N-Shop renovation. The Park-N-Shop grocery store, rich with history and loved by many longtime Charlotteans, has been converted into 33,000 square feet of modern office space now called Park-N-Workshop. The exterior shell of the building remains largely the same and celebrates the building's unique architecture, distinctive sloped roof and steel arches that make it a recognizable landmark on Wilkinson Blvd. The glass windows on the front of the building are reminiscent of a grocery store entrance and pay homage to the building's original purpose. According to Axios Charlotte, the city of "Charlotte has earned a reputation for tearing down its history. But projects that breathe new life into old buildings like this one help save pieces of the city's legacy."

On the Move

Speaking of our Roby Commercial and Roby Services teams, we're excited to share the companies have just completed and moved into a new office space. Located on Wilkinson Blvd, the property was home to Southern Engineering Company for more than nine decades which grew to become one of the premier steel fabricators in the Southeast. The sprawling plant, located across the street from Bar-B-Q King, was nicknamed "Little Pittsburgh". We've dubbed it "Steel Yard Row" to reflect its steel manufacturing history.

Roby Rock Star

Congratulations to Andrew Roby Superintendent, Chris Edwards, our 4th quarter Rock Star of 2022! Chris is a reliable employee with a loong list of happy customers who appreciate his attention to detail, focus on quality and excellent communication. He often spends his weekends visiting job sites to go the extra mile for our clients. For example, Chris made a special Saturday visit to check a home's new hardwoods for drying and smell so that he could let the owners know as soon as possible when they could move back in.

Thank you, Chris! We greatly appreciate your dedication to our clients and your willingness to go above and beyond to provide them with excellent customer care.
